CREATE PLAYDATE

Just Line Around by Kinsey McVay
Today we will be creating lines based on the book Just Line Around by Kinsy McVay. Like the author, we will draw lines as emotions or actions. Next, we will make our lines out of string, or you can use any materials you have around your house.

Instructions for your Lines:

Materials Needed:

- Just Line Around worksheet
- Markers
- Yarn or string (different colors or white)
- Glue or tape
- Scissors

Here is an example of what your different types of lines might look like as you draw them dancing, sneezing, humming and more! We will start by drawing a variety of lines representing actions and then covering them in a color string that best fits the line's emotion.

Step 1:
Draw your line. This will be the base of how your other lines will look. It should be as straight and flat as possible, like the one in the book.

Step 2:
Go through the worksheet and draw your line while you laugh, hum, wave, dance.

Step 3:
Once you have drawn all of your lines, decide which color should represent each action. When you are laughing, you are happy, so what is a happy color to you? I chose yellow to represent happy, so I put a yellow string over the laughing line. Your happy color could be different than mine. Maybe happy to you is best represented by blue, green, red, violet, pink, or orange. If you do not have that color string, try using white string and coloring it with a marker!

Step 4:
Start by setting the string along the line you made and then gluing or taping it down.

Step 5:
Once you are done with your lines, make sure to show us by tagging us @suma_museum and with the hashtag, #SUMAatHome.

SHARE!
Now that you have created your lines, share a photo of your masterpiece with SUMA so we can share it with the community. Tag us on Instagram @suma_museum, use #SUMAatHome or email us your photo at experiencesuma@suu.edu.
